

EMILY LLAMAZALES

Emily Llamazales is an interdisciplinary artist whose work draws from science-fiction and reimagined biology in order to address concerns about our ecological future. She holds a BA in Interdisciplinary Studio Art and Design from the University of Georgia's Lamar Dodd School of Art (2019), was selected as a finalist for the 2023 Emerging Artist Fellowship by Atlanta Celebrates Photography, awarded a 2022/2023 Emerging Artist Award from the Atlanta Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs and is a recipient of a 2022 Idea Capital Grant (Atlanta). Llamazales previously served as the Program and Development Coordinator at Burnaway, a non-profit magazine of contemporary art criticism from the South. She lives and works in Atlanta, Ga.

CLEO THE GALLERY

Cleo the Gallery is a small Savannah, GA contemporary art gallery transitioning into a non profit project space in January 2024. Our mission is to serve artists, dismissing the predilection towards a favor based economy in the art world and helping support the livelihoods of under exhibited artists as a redefinition of the balance of power between gallery and artist. We provide honorariums to our exhibiting artists as well as full shipping reimbursement for out of town makers. We also believe in transparency and as such publish on our website the allocation of funds for each show at their close.
