BIO

Kevin Sparkowich (b. 1997, Maine) is an interdisciplinary artist best known for his oil paintings and sculptural performances utilizing ready-mades as raw material. His practice touches on masculinity, violence, romanticism, and mythology. Sparkowich is based in Brooklyn, New York.

ABOUT THE GALLERY

VARIABLE TERMS is curated by the philosopher Dr. Darla Migan. She takes up an interdisciplinary approach to creating aesthetic experiences, wherein to philosophize also means learning from artists. After writing her dissertation on Conceptual artist Adrian Piper, her thinking has expanded to reflect on the shifting conditions of contemporary art after identity politics.
